About Your Local Owner

Ryan Lowe

Owner

Ryan Lowe is the owner of Bio-One, located in Delaware.

Ryan grew up in Newark and attended the University of Delaware, where he earned his Bachelor's Degree, as well as his MBA. After working in various Project Management roles for more than a decade, Ryan decided that he wanted a role that focused on his community and helping others. Ryan served as a Professor at the University of Delaware for more than a decade, where he taught his students how to help others as well. Ryan came to Bio-One because it was clear that Help First, Business Second is more than just a motto. Rather, it's a way of living that allows Ryan to focus on helping people in their time of need. Ryan and his wife, Kristi, have two daughters and are active members in their church and local community.
